Awards/Honors:

Award presented by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. The award letter, dated August 20, 2007 begins with the following statement: "In acknowledgement of your scientific achievements in your specific academic field and in recognition of your contribution towards scientific co-corporation with German colleagues I have the pleasure to invite you on behalf of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation for a renewed academic stay in Germany for a period of three months" (signed by Dr. Steffen Mehlich). This award resulted from an anonymous nomination by either a member of the Alexander von Humboldt administration or board of directors, or by a German scholar. The total amount of the award is 11,050 Euros ($16,100 current exchange rate) for living and travel expenses (plus a supplemental award for support of a spouse).

Award presented by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. The award letter, dated May 10, 2001, begins with the following statement (translated from German): "... in recognition of your scientific work in your field of specialization and your contributions to cooperative scientific work with German colleagues it gives me special pleasure, in the name of the Board of Governors of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, to award you a . . . scientific research stipendium . . ." (signed by Dr. Gisela Janetzke). The total amount of the award is DM 17,000, including DM 5,400 per month living expenses for three months in Germany, DM 10,000 for travel expenses, and DM 800 for travel within Germany for research purposes. The researcher has the discretion to divide the award and use it for several research related trips to Germany. No stipulations were made as to the specific nature of the research or where the research is to be conducted in Germany.

Selected by the national office of the Parents of Murdered Children to have name and photograph placed on the Wall of Honor. The letter from the national offices stated that the Wall of Honor "includes persons who have made a significant contribution to victims' rights and victim awareness in the United States." The letter goes on to state that, to the knowledge of the national office, I was the first professor in the United States to establish a regular course in Victimology. December, 2000.

1995 recipient, Excellence in Research Award, Sam Houston State University.

One of 150 invited participants (36 countries) to a symposium entitled "Geisteswissenschaftliches und literarisches Übersetzen im internationalen Kulturaustausch" (Social Scientific and Literary Translations in International Cultural Exchange) held in Sonthofen, Germany, October, 1991. The symposium was organized by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. All expenses were paid by the foundation.

One of twenty-two invited participants (from nineteen countries and the United Nations) to a seminar on "Imprisonment Today and Tomorrow: New Perspectives on Prisoners' Rights and Prison Conditions" held in Buchenbach, Federal Republic of Germany, September, 1989. The seminar was sponsored by the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Penal Law. All expenses for the participants were paid by the German Research Foundation.

The book Crime and Justice in Texas (see publications below) was nominated by the Texas State Publications Clearinghouse to the American Library Association as "an outstanding publication of a state-supported institution of higher education."

Awarded grant from the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation for (partial) expenses related to attending the 10th International Congress on Criminology, Hamburg, Federal Republic of Germany (September, 1988).

Awarded competitive travel grant by the International Research and Exchanges Board to lecture in Poland (November, 1987).

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, in recognition of status as an Alexander von Humboldt Fellow, and contributions to the field of study, purchased and donated a collection of 28 volumes (books) to the Sam Houston State University Library.

Elected as a member of Sigma Xi National Scientific Research Society. Nominated by faculty and dean of graduate studies at Texas A&M University, 1982 based on publications and scientific research contributions since joining the faculty at Sam Houston State University in 1973.

Elected as a Fellow in the Texas Academy of Sciences, 1982.

Director, Survey Research Program (1977 - 1983):

The primary focus of this role was the inception, development, and administration of the Texas Crime Poll, an annual statewide survey of 2000 Texas residents. Responsibilities included development and management of research projects; personnel recruitment; staff supervision; budget preparation and management; establishing and maintaining liaison with the news media; maintaining contact with and assisting members of the Texas Legislature; the Office of the Governor, and both public and private criminal justice related agencies; representing the Criminal Justice Center when requested by the Dean and Director; report writing; grant preparation and management; and, assisting members of the faculty with research projects, particularly in the area of survey research. During this time I administered research funds from grants, contracts, and direct appropriations totaling more than $300,000.00 and I directed a total of 20 major research projects resulting in 15 published reports/monographs (1000 to 2000 printed copies of each report), 4 published reports with limited distribution, and 4 unpublished reports (i.e., mimeographs). In addition, I provided, through the Survey Research Program, both financial and technical support for 3 major research projects administered by other members of the faculty, each resulting in a published report/monograph with distributions of 1000 to 2000 copies each. From August, 1981 to May, 1983 I had the additional responsibility of developing and managing the Criminal Justice Center's computer and research laboratory. This included supervising the selection and installation of computer equipment, design of the facilities, staff selection and management, and assisting members of the faculty and staff regarding computer needs. From September, 1981 to January, 1983, as one of my additional duties as Director of Survey Research, I was responsible for all graduate students assigned to research assistantships, including assignment of these graduate students to assist members of the faculty with their research projects.
